

Apuntes sobre el feminismo negro cubano. Homenaje a Georgina Herrera.

Notes on Black Cuban Feminism:
Homage to Giorgina Herrera.

In the seminar: Heroines of the 20th Century –
Black Women in the Americas

Guest: Sandra Heidl/Negracubana

Founder of the blog afrocubanas.com

Sandra Heidl, born in Havana in 1973, author, researcher, blogger and psychologist. In her work, she addresses racism, researches discrimination in the Cuban context and brings to light the stories of Afro-Cuban women. In 2014, she was nominated for The Bobs - Best of Online Activism Awards by Deutsche Welle. She is also founder of the Afro-Cuban Black feminist women's group Afrocubanas and co-editor of the book Afrocubanas: Historia, pensamiento y prácticas culturales published in 2011 by Editorial de Ciencias Sociales, Havana, Cuba. Furthermore, she is author of the publication Negra cubana tenía que ser, published by Ediciones Wanafrica in 2021. She is a member of the Black Americas Network.

17.05.2024,
09:00am c.t.

room B209, Historisches Seminar, Im Moore 21

The event is open to all interested participants and will be held in Spanish with English translation.

contact: vanessa.ohlraun@hist.uni-hannover.de

